

CENTER FOR ECONOMIC STUDIES SEMINAR SERIES SCHEDULE

Spring 2010

Date*	Speaker and Co-authors	Title of Presentation	Location ⁺
4 Feb	Till von Wachter Columbia University	Long-term earnings losses due to mass layoffs during the 1982 recession: an analysis using U.S. administrative data from 1974 to 2004	T1
25 Feb	Ray Mataloni Bureau of Economic Analysis	The productivity advantage and global scope of U.S. multinational companies	T3
4 Mar	Ana Abras University of Maryland	Stable firms and unstable wages: theory and evidence on the rise in earnings instability in the US economy	2J253
18 Mar	Roberto Samaniego George Washington University	TBA	T1
25 Mar	Haydar Kurban Howard University	TBA	T2
1 Apr	Justin Pierce Center for Economic Studies	Plant-level exit and the importing behavior of firms	T1
15 Apr	Kristina McElheran Harvard University	TBA	T2
29 Apr	Ron Shadbegian US EPA	Environmental regulations and technological change	2J253
6 May	Jose Plehn-Dujowich Temple University	TBA	T2
13 May (rescheduled from 11 Feb)	Henry Hyatt Center for Economic Studies	The closure effect: evidence from workers compensation litigation	T1
20 May	Elizabeth Ananat Duke University; Stephen Ross University of Connecticut	TBA	T5
3 June	Lucia Foster and Cheryl Grim Center for Economic Studies	TBA	T1
Additional Spring 2010 Seminars TBA

* Seminars are held from 10:30 AM – noon unless otherwise noted.

⁺ Seminars are located at the US Census Bureau headquarters in Suitland, MD.

The schedule is subject to change. See the Center for Economic Studies Web site, www.ces.census.gov, for the latest seminar schedule. Contact: ces.seminars@census.gov

Updated: 16 February 2010